THE JOHN F. CUMMINGS MEMORIAL AWARD
John Cummings, BS ’58, DVM ’62, MS ’63, PhD ’66, James Law Professor of Anatomy, had a long, distinguished career at Cornell as teacher, researcher and mentor to both veterinary and graduate students. He was an exciting and inspiring teacher, known for his interest in, patience with and compassion for students. Dr. Cummings was also a researcher in comparative neuropathology, internationally renowned for his work with animal models of human neurologic diseases. His untimely death on November 3, 1996 filled everyone who knew him with great sadness. Dr. Cummings was the kind of person that many of us aspire to be. He was a modest person, of the highest integrity, who knew the importance of family, community and social responsibility and who had broad interests, knowledge and expertise outside, as well as within veterinary medicine. He approached every aspect of life with enthusiasm, honesty, integrity, and a legendary sense of humor and wit. He respected and cared for others, and earned their respect and admiration in return. The College of Veterinary Medicine Classes of 1997, 1998, 1999 and 2000 established a fund to provide an annual award to be given to a member of the 3rd year class who best exemplifies these qualities of Dr. Cummings. Students in any of the four veterinary classes can nominate a member of the 3rd year class for this award. The recipient of the award is then chosen by a faculty committee from among those students nominated.

Koji Yasuda

THE A. GORDON DANKS LARGE ANIMAL SURGERY AWARD
This award was initiated in 1978 by the faculty of the Department of Clinical Sciences to recognize the outstanding contributions of Professor Emeritus A. Gordon Danks, first Director of Student Administration and Admissions and Chairman of the former Department of Large Animal Medicine and Surgery. It is presented to a fourth-year student demonstrating outstanding knowledge and talent in the diagnosis and treatment of surgical problems of large animals. Basic and applied knowledge, diagnostic abilities, general surgical skills, and patient care exhibited during the clinical rotations are considered in selecting the recipient.

Abigail Rachel Roemer

THE DAPHNE AWARD
This award was established to recognize clinical proficiency and assist new graduates beginning a career in a practice setting. It is awarded to a small number of graduating students who exemplify excellence in the practice of veterinary medicine; whose knowledge, professional skills, compassion, and high standards of patient care promise to advance a legacy of excellence throughout their professional careers.

THE DERMATOLOGY SERVICE AWARD
DVM Pharmaceuticals, Inc. sponsored this award to recognize excellence and interest in clinical dermatology. The recipient is selected by the faculty involved in teaching clinical dermatology.
Stephen Alfred Frattini

THE HUGH DUKES PRIZE IN EXPERIMENTAL PHYSIOLOGY
This prize was established by former students and friends of Dr. H. Hugh Dukes, who was a pioneer in the education of students in physiology and who served the University and College for 28 years as Professor and Chairman of the Department of Physiology. With a view to encouraging veterinary graduates to undertake research and teaching in physiology the prize is awarded upon the judgment of the veterinary physiology teaching faculty to a veterinary student who has done excellent work in physiology laboratory courses and shows potential for teaching and contributing new knowledge to physiology. Nominations may be made by any faculty member in the College of Veterinary Medicine.
Krystal Heather Allen

THE ETTINGER INCENTIVE AWARD
Dr. Stephen Ettinger, Class of 1964, established this award to provide encouragement to all veterinary medical students at Cornell. The award, Dr. Ettinger’s Textbook of Veterinary Internal Medicine, is given to a second-year student who has made the greatest improvement in cumulative GPA between the first and second year.
Renee Louise Porfido

THE HOWARD E. EVANS AWARD IN COMPARATIVE ANATOMY
In 1994, on the occasion of his 50th year class reunion, Dr. Howard Evans ’44 and his wife Erica generously endowed this scholarship to be awarded by the faculty of the Department of Anatomy. The purpose of this award is to recognize and encourage student participation in anatomical endeavors that pertain to the gross structure or function of any animal (particularly fish, reptile or bird).
Michelle Kathryn Pesce
THE MYRON G. FINCHER PRIZE
This award was initiated in 1980 through an endowment from Dr. Neil W. Pieper, ’32, given in honor of Professor Emeritus Myron G. Fincher, ’20. It is in recognition of the many contributions to the College by Dr. Fincher. Always a gentleman, he firmly demanded the best from his students and played a leading role in the instruction of large animal medicine and obstetrics for 45 years. It is presented to a fourth-year student demonstrating the best work in courses dealing with large animal obstetrics and reproductive diseases. Academic as well as practical performance is considered. Nominations are made by the Section of Theriogenology in consultation with other clinical faculty.

Brooke May Crosier

THE FINGER LAKES KENNEL CLUB AWARD
This award is presented to a veterinary student who has demonstrated an interest in purebred dogs. Students in any class year are eligible. This year the prize goes to a third-year student.

Jared Brett Coren

THE TRACY FRENCH CLINICAL PATHOLOGY PRIZE
This prize is awarded in honor of Dr. Tracy French, who was an associate professor in Clinical Pathology for over 15 years at Cornell University. Dr. French was a leading architect in the creation of eClinPath at Cornell, the web-based clinical pathology teaching modules. This on-line textbook has and will continue to be used as an exceptional educational resource for faculty, students and alumni. This prize is awarded to the veterinary student who achieves the highest grade in the Clinical Pathology course, VTMED 6320, thus displaying excellence in clinical pathology. This year the award goes to a second-year student.

Ravee Padte

THE GENTLE DOCTOR AWARD
The Gentle Doctor Award was originally made possible by Dr. William Hornbuckle’s contribution of prize money from the Norden Distinguished Teacher Award received by him in 1979. Dr. and Mrs. Robert Kirk established a permanent endowment fund for the continuation of this award. The recipient of the award is a fourth-year student who, in the opinion of the faculty of the Department of Clinical Sciences, exemplifies Dr. Manning. The student should exhibit qualities of good work ethic, value system and humor. Nominees are selected by faculty of the Equine and Farm Animal Hospital. This year the faculty has selected a fourth-year student:

Derek John Cavatorta

THE GRANT SHERMAN HOPKINS PRIZE
The endowment for this prize was given by Ms. Ann Ottaway Hopkins in 1955 in memory of her husband who had served the University and College for 45 years as Professor of Veterinary Anatomy. It is awarded upon the recommendation of the anatomy faculty in the Department of Biomedical Sciences on the basis of interest, ability, perseverance, and performance in work in that department.

Jeremy Michael Salvatore

THE P. PHILIP LEVINE PRIZE IN AVIAN MEDICINE
This prize was established from donations made by friends and colleagues of Dr. P. Philip Levine in memory of his many contributions to the field of avian medicine, both nationally and internationally. Dr. Levine was a long-time member of the Cornell faculty and was the first chairman of the Department of Avian Diseases. Much of his life was dedicated to the training of young people and to encouraging them to aspire to excellence. In the spirit of encouraging excellence, this prize is awarded to a veterinary student excelling in avian medicine.

Emily Kee Stuebing

THE ROBERT V. MANNING ’55 PRIZE
This prize was established by the family of Dr. Robert V. Manning ’55 in his memory. It is awarded to a third or fourth-year student with interest in bovine medicine who best exemplifies Dr. Manning.
