VETERINARIAN'S OATH

Being admitted to the profession of veterinary medicine, I solemnly swear to use my scientific knowledge and skills for the benefit of society through the protection of animal health and welfare, the prevention and relief of animal suffering, the conservation of animal resources, the promotion of public health, and the advancement of medical knowledge.

I will practice my profession conscientiously, with dignity, and in keeping with the principles of veterinary medical ethics.

I accept as a lifelong obligation the continual improvement of my professional knowledge and competence.

THE WHITE COAT CEREMONY

The first white coat ceremony, sponsored by the Arnold P. Gold Foundation, was held at the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons in 1993. Since that time, white coat ceremonies have become a tradition at many schools of medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, osteopathy, and veterinary medicine across the country.

At these ceremonies, students receive a white coat - the symbol of professionalism and empathy in the practice of medicine. The purpose of white coat ceremonies is to alert medical students to the need to balance excellence in science with humanistic patient care.

This event is also an acknowledgment and acceptance of professional values, growth, and commitment as students assume the responsibilities of the practice of veterinary medicine and its obligations before supportive witnesses.

Our college takes the celebration of this "rite of passage" one step further by honoring the mentors who have provided considerable support and special encouragement to our students along the way. These individuals will enrobe their students with the time-honored mantle of the medical profession: the white coat.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER – A'ndrea Van Schoick, BS '96, DVM

Dr. A'ndrea Van Schoick earned her BS with Honors in Animal Science from Cornell University and BS in Veterinary Medicine and DVM degrees from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. She holds a project management certification from Duke University, is a graduate of the Institute for Women's Entrepreneurship at Cornell and eCornell's Executive Leadership program, and holds certifications in facilitation, training, and instructional design.

After veterinary school, Dr. Van Schoick spent eight years in private companion animal clinical practice in northern Virginia and established a five-state locum tenens primary care and emergency practice. She is a Fear Free Elite and Human-Animal Bond certified veterinarian and has been honored as a Top Vet in Virginia Living, and among the Best Vets in Northern Virginia Magazine and Washingtonian.

In 2008, Dr. Van Schoick became a Veterinary Medical Officer at FDA's Center for Veterinary Medicine (CVM), where she has held roles as a new animal drug reviewer, Director of Scientific Curriculum, and currently, within the Office of Minor Use and Minor Species Animal Drug Development. She also continues her clinical practice and is an adjunct Assistant Professor of Practice at the University of Arizona College of Veterinary Medicine.

Dr. Van Schoick is a Past President and current Scholarships and Grants Chair for the District of Columbia Academy of Veterinary Medicine, Vice President of the Northern Virginia Veterinary Medical Association, and provides mentorship and peer support through several organizations, including Not One More Vet and MentorVet. For Cornell, she is a long-time volunteer leader and currently serves as Immediate Past President of the Cornell Association of Class Officers and member of the Board of Trustees. She lives in Virginia with Dr. Watson and Linus, the Beagles.
